Rogovin Cancels Ashdod Rayon Factory Plans

ATLANTA (Georgia, Saturday, Feb. 23) — Mr. Israel Rogovin, the New York industrialist, has announced that he has cancelled plans for a projected $20m. rayon plant in Ashdod in Israel.

Finance Ministry circles last night expressed surprise at Mr. Rogovin's announcement. They voiced the hope that any difficulties that had arisen could be ironed out during his visit to the country in the near future.

Mr. Rogovin told a testimonial dinner in his honour on Thursday that because of circumstances beyond his control he had to abandon plans for the plant, already under construction, in Israel. He hinted that his reason for this withdrawal was the lack of response on the part of other individuals in financing the project. He said that he had been unable to obtain the necessary $20m. in shares of stock in the new plant.

He told his audience that responsibility for this development lay partly with the American Jewish and partly with the Israeli Government. He said that the Israeli Government had not responded to his offer of $10m. in shares of stock in the new plant.

Mr. Rogovin, who is also known for his philanthropy and last year made the largest single purchase of Israeli Development Bonds — $1m. worth — announced at the time that he intended to give $1m. worth of his stock in the new plant to American and Israeli cultural and educational institutions. In his speech at Atlanta, Mr. Rogovin announced that he would nevertheless convert some of these stock endowments into cash gifts.

Lloyd Ouster Seen After House Speech

LONDON, Saturday (Reuter). — Forecasts that Prime Minister Macmillan will before long make a change in the Foreign Secretaryship are current among politicians today, following Mr. Selwyn Lloyd's performance in the Commons debate on Thursday night.

The Prime Minister intervened unexpectedly with a second speech in the debate when Labour, dissatisfied with the Foreign Secretary's approach to the issue of summit talks with Russia, decided to force a vote.

On Wednesday — first day of the debate — the speeches of Mr. Macmillan and Mr. Hugh Gaitskell, Labour Party leader, had appeared to leave some of the old bipartisan approach on foreign policy.

Labour Dissatisfied

But there was a changed atmosphere following the speeches of Mr. Aneurin Bevan, Labour's spokesman, and Mr. Lloyd. The latter failed to satisfy the Opposition to his approach to the Government's approach to 'summit' talks had a sense of urgency.

Pro-Government newspapers were blunt in their reaction to Mr. Lloyd's speech. The "Daily Mail" asserted that many backbench conservatives were clamouring for the Foreign Secretary to resign. It called his speech a "disaster" by "conservatives". It said there was "much discussion of how long Mr. Lloyd could carry on as Foreign Secretary."

Nuclear Ban Drive

A movement called the Campaign for Nuclear Disarmament is growing as no similar drive has been able to do in the past, according to its sponsors, who revealed that more than 5,000 persons attended five meetings held here to inaugurate the group. There is no registered membership, but the leaders state that letters are pouring in daily.

So far more than 100 committees have been set up in provincial towns and the movement is planning mass meetings throughout the country.

Names associated with it include that of Earl Russell, while J. B. Priestley, the best-selling author, is on the executive committee. At the inaugural meeting, Lord Russell said that unless the H-bomb was banned everywhere, "it is an even chance whether human beings will exist 40 years hence."

U.S. Mediation Envoy on Way To Tunisia

The U.S. representative in the Franco-Tunisian dispute, Mr. Robert Murphy, arrived in London by air yesterday for consultations with the British Government before going on to Paris and Tunis.

Mr. Murphy, who is a Deputy Under-Secretary in the State Department, has been appointed to exercise the U.S. Government's good offices in the dispute.

Britain has offered similar good offices and its representative, with whom Mr. Murphy will consult, is Mr. Harold Bealey of the Foreign Office. Mr. Murphy is also expected to meet the British Foreign Secretary, Mr. Selwyn Lloyd, during the week-end.

"Al Alam," the newspaper of the Tunisian Neo-Destour (Government) Party, yesterday published what it called an American four-point plan for good offices in the dispute.

The plan, it said, would submit the following points to President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia:

- Compensation for civilian victims of the French bombing of the Tunisian village of Zakiet and reconstruction of the village in modern style.
- Gradual evacuation of Tunisian territory by French troops.
- Control of French evacuation of Bizerta naval base by Canada, Brazil, Greece, Italy, Pakistan and Japan.
- French Government sources have repeatedly stated that they have no intention either of evacuating Bizerta or of discussing it under the good offices plan.

Gradual evacuation of Tunisian territory by French troops.

In Tunisia, the French Commander, General Gambier, left Tunis yesterday by air for Bizerta, in the south, which Tunisia sources have alleged is being surrounded by French troops.

Five French consuls expelled from their consulates on Thursday after the Tunisian Government withdrew recognition from them, said on Friday that they were not given time to pack or clear their offices before being taken to Tunis under police escort.

U.N. Adjourns On 'Egypt Aggression'

UNITED NATIONS, Saturday (Reuter). — The Security Council adjourned last night without taking a decision on the Sudan's complaint of "impending Egyptian aggression" along her northern border in areas for which both countries claim sovereignty.

Members had urged that the status quo be maintained pending further efforts to achieve a settlement between the two countries.

Yacoub Osman, Sudanese Ambassador said his Government had done everything in its power to avoid bringing the question to the U.N. "We exhausted all our possibilities within the short time at our disposal to reach a peaceful and equitable solution of this question," he said, adding that "we have been compelled to bring this grave situation to the attention of the Security Council."

He said his Government has always stretched the hand of friendship to our Egyptian brothers.

Firm on Freedom

"We shall always remain grateful for whatever good deeds they have done for us but let us not make a mistake — the Sudan people have always fought for their freedom, for their rights, for their independence."

The Council recessed for an hour to allow members time for consultations on the question. Dr. Koto Matsuura, of Japan, proposed the recess, after members had heard statements from Omar al-Louhi of Sudan and Omar al-Louhi of Egypt, on their two countries' differences.

The Egyptian permanent representative went up to the Council chamber and shook hands warmly and smiled for cameramen before the meeting began. Officials said this was the first time to the knowledge of the press that the Egyptian Ambassador had been involved on different sides in a situation brought before the Council.

Despite the apparent good relation between the Sudanese and Egyptian delegates, Western sources said earlier that the Council adopted a formal resolution to deal with the border question. The sources said they could not remember an occasion when there was a less clear idea of what might transpire at the session. They blamed this on the lack of official information about the situation.

Masser Made U.A.R. President, Pledges to Fight for All Arabs

Abdul Nasser pledged in a speech yesterday that the Egyptian-Syrian United Arab Republic would support all Arabs in their fight against the "common enemy," following the unanimous approval of the U.A.R. and his election as its first President in a plebiscite on Friday.

He did not name the enemy but he apparently referred to Britain, France and Israel, as he pointed to the "utter defeat" suffered by the enemy at Port Said which, he claimed, came about through the "determined force of the Arab people, thanks to the unity of the Arab people."

Nasser was acclaimed as President of the U.A.R. at a mammoth rally at Cairo's Square of the Republic, where Interior Minister Mohi el-Din announced that the union and Nasser as its head by 99.99 per cent in Egypt, and by 99.5 per cent in Syria.

The new President's first decree was to appoint the Egyptian War Minister and Chief of Staff, Abdul Hakim Amer, as Commander-in-Chief of the armed forces of the U.A.R., with the rank of Field Marshal.

Unity is Weapon

Nasser said the unity which has been achieved "is our weapon" to be used against the enemy who has been endeavouring to divide and split Arab unanimity. He pointed to the "utter defeat" of the enemy at Port Said, which came about through the "determined force of the Arab people, thanks to the unity of the Arab people."

Referring to allegations that the Egyptian Army invaded the Sudan, Nasser said the crowd, "the United Arab Republic will never raise its arms against an Arab people."

Syria "Province"

Yesterday Cairo Radio began to refer to Syria as (Syria province) and called Cairo the capital of U.A.R.

Details of the voting were as follows:

The Egyptian electoral roll was 2,279,643, of whom 1,168,339 voted. Voting in favour of the union was 1,887,175. 133 voted against. Invalid votes totalled 1,084. Nasser's election was approved by 1,388,116 votes against 335 votes cast against.

In Syria, the electoral roll was 1,410,000. Voting for the union was 1,312,859. 133 voted against. For Nasser there were 1,312,859, and 127 against. Invalid votes totalled 71.

Sweeping political changes will include the resignation of the Egyptian and Syrian Cabinets and the setting up of a single National Assembly. A central government and two regional councils will be formed and Nasser will rule the new republic from Cairo, Damascus will be his summer capital.

At the U.N., an Egyptian delegation spokesman said it was "extremely unlikely" Egypt and Syria would retain separate representation. He said an official communication to the U.N. would be presented shortly.

If Egypt and Syria dropped out of the U.N. in favour of a United Arab Republic member, the world organization's strength would be reduced to 81. (U.P. Reuter, Cairo R.)

Egypt Defers Frontier Dispute Till After Sudanese Elections

KHARTOUM, Saturday (Reuter). — Tension eased on the Sudanese-Egyptian frontier today following Egypt's decision to postpone the border dispute until after the Sudanese general election next Thursday. But Sudanese troops remained at their outposts ready for any emergency.

The Sudanese Government has not revealed the size of the force sent to the northern border and particularly to the hump-shaped area in north-eastern Sudan claimed by Egypt. But observers have seen large numbers of Sudanese troops at Khaliabi and Wadi Halfa, just outside the Sudan's frontier with Egypt. Egyptian officials also claimed by Egypt.

Egypt last week informed the Sudan that it intended to conduct a plebiscite on February 21 in the 10,000 square mile area which she claimed — all territory north of parallel 22. In return she was ready to cede a small area in the south.

No Plebiscite

Yesterday, Egypt announced over Cairo Radio and through the Egyptian Embassy in Khartoum that she agreed to defer the dispute until after the Sudanese election next Thursday — as proposed by the Sudan. The Egyptian plebiscite was not held in the border area.

(Cairo Radio, announcing its postponement decision on only one side at the time, said that in taking this step, "Egypt has maintained solidarity with the Sudan for the sake of freedom and independence and only aims at thwarting the plans of schemers who have seized opportunities to disturb the ancient relations between two fraternal peoples."

The Radio added: "Moreover, Egypt will not reply to provocations which have already been made in the form of an invasion of Sudanese territory, at a time when only the known frontier patrols are at the southern borders."

Government circles here, however, were offended by Egypt's delay in officially notifying the Sudanese Government of its decision temporarily to shelve the dispute. It said that the night turned to complaints today and the Prime Minister, Abdullah Khalil, said he was contemplating forcing a protest to the Egyptian Government.

Egyptian Propaganda

Officials here claimed a number of Egyptians had been expelled from their consulates on Thursday after the Tunisian Government withdrew recognition from them, said on Friday that they were not given time to pack or clear their offices before being taken to Tunis under police escort.

Amer Appointed Commander

Abdul Nasser pledged in a speech yesterday that the Egyptian-Syrian United Arab Republic would support all Arabs in their fight against the "common enemy," following the unanimous approval of the U.A.R. and his election as its first President in a plebiscite on Friday.

Kuwait and Syrian Government Quit

DAMASCUS, Saturday (Reuter). — President Shukri Kuwaty and the Syrian Government resigned today after the Syrian-Egyptian plebiscite approving union of the two countries.

But the Government of Sabri el Asali will continue in a caretaker capacity pending the formation of a regional Executive Council for the two areas.

Foreign diplomatic missions have automatically lost their official status, but they will retain their immunity and privileges for a maximum period of two months.

Thousands of Syrians thronged the streets as the final returns of the plebiscite were announced by Cairo Radio. A crowd which had gathered outside Kuwaty's residence thunderously cheered the "heroes of unity" — Nasser and Kuwaty.

Syrian statesmen hailed the result of the plebiscite and described it as representing "the true will" of the Arab people.

Asali called Nasser today notifying him that he was resigning his post as Prime Minister. Earlier, the Syrian Cabinet met for the last time.

Sweeping political changes will include the resignation of the Egyptian and Syrian Cabinets and the setting up of a single National Assembly. A central government and two regional councils will be formed and Nasser will rule the new republic from Cairo, Damascus will be his summer capital.

At the U.N., an Egyptian delegation spokesman said it was "extremely unlikely" Egypt and Syria would retain separate representation. He said an official communication to the U.N. would be presented shortly.

Old City Businessmen Fear Customs Union

"Palestine" reported on Friday that the Chamber of Commerce in the Old City has cabled the Jordan Ministry of Finance requesting that the implementation of the economic and customs union between Jordan and Iraq be delayed. The appeal was made on the ground that customs tariffs in Iraq are much lower than those in Jordan.

Commenting editorially, "Palestine" said that it was most selfish for a group of individuals to delay the postponement of "the dream of a whole nation," and added that there should be no delay in the setting up of the customs union. It said that readjustments could be sought after this had been implemented.

ANA reported yesterday from Baghdad that the Iraqi Senate on Thursday night granted Nuri Said four months' leave for medical treatment and recuperation in Europe.

The agency also reported that the Iraqi Prime Minister, Abdul Wahab Mirza, yesterday stated, adding "We want to live in peace with all peoples and to resolve international problems by way of negotiation by peaceful means and not by way of war."

Mr. Khrushchev also said, "The Soviet country is now so vigorous and strong that it will advance victoriously seven-league steps and ensure such a pace in the development of economy and culture, in the manufacture of everything necessary for all-round development of our people as not even the most daring minds can imagine."

British Guarantee For Border Not Requested

The Israeli Foreign Ministry spokesman on Friday declined comment on Mr. Lloyd's statement, beyond saying that the Israeli Government holds the general recognition of Israel's present borders would be a contributory factor to stability of the Middle East.

The spokesman denied that Israel had asked Britain to guarantee its borders.

Suez Talks Put Off To End of March

ROME, Saturday (Reuter). — Discussions between the Egyptian Government and shareholders of the Suez Canal Company have been adjourned until March 31, it was announced today in Rome.

The statement said the meetings would be resumed at a place to be determined later. It is understood the adjournment is designed to give each side time to digest the views of the other.

The shareholders are seeking compensation from Egypt for seizure of the Suez Canal in 1954.

The Massachusetts Heart Association said the find may prove as important to medicine as the development of penicillin.

Dr. Mario Stefanini of St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Boston discovered the mold after 10 years of research. He said it has proved successful in treating 25 patients. The strange mold promises dramatic and quick relief for heart patients, the Association said.

Dr. Stefanini said the growth may be used in treating persons stricken with heart attacks, pleuritis and other conditions connected with blood clotting. It produces "proteolytic enzymes" which destroy protein substances, including blood clots.

U.S.-U.K. Agreement to Set Up Missile Bases in Britain

Britain and the U.S. yesterday signed a space-age agreement providing for the establishment of ballistic missile bases on British soil, authoritative sources in Washington reported.

Details of the agreement will be announced simultaneously in Washington and London on Monday.

Under the agreement, the U.S. will have at least one squadron of the Air Force Thor intermediate range ballistic missiles deployed in Britain by December this year.

Four missile bases will be constructed on British soil to house the American weapons, U.S. officials said.

In London, the British Air Minister, Mr. George Ward, announced on Friday that Britain is developing a ballistic missile as a top priority, as well as bombers of considerable range.

Colonel Basilian Djambeck, Interior Minister in the rebel Government last night alleged that two Indonesian Government aircraft had dropped bombs and machine guns on a village, 45 miles from Padang, according to Padang Radio today.

In Jakarta, President Sukarno declared today that foreign countries were putting pressure to force Indonesia, or part of it, into one of the great power blocs. (Despatch from Bloodworth-F.A.)

Gov't Planes Raid 2 Sumatra Towns

Five French consuls expelled from their consulates on Thursday after the Tunisian Government withdrew recognition from them, said on Friday that they were not given time to pack or clear their offices before being taken to Tunis under police escort.

Session on Maritime Law Opens Tomorrow

GENEVA, Saturday (Reuter). — Representatives of about 80 nations will meet in Geneva on Monday under U.N. auspices for a major attempt to evolve the first comprehensive world-wide agreement on a uniform law of the sea.

Delegates will be called on to draft international conventions covering a number of controversial problems including: The extent of territorial waters, the law of the high seas, the conservation of fisheries and the right to exploit their natural resources.

Among the most contentious questions will be the width of territorial seas, and Britain and the U.S. are expected to play a leading part in debates on this subject.

Mold Said Found To Fight Heart Ailments

BOSTON, Saturday (U.P.). — Discovery of a "bloodhound" mold which seeks out and kills clots in the human blood stream was hailed today as a major medical breakthrough.

The Massachusetts Heart Association said the find may prove as important to medicine as the development of penicillin.

Dr. Mario Stefanini of St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Boston discovered the mold after 10 years of research. He said it has proved successful in treating 25 patients. The strange mold promises dramatic and quick relief for heart patients, the Association said.

Jordan Bars Pilgrim Travel from Akaba

The Jordan Government has this year again banned Haj pilgrims from travelling by sea from Akaba, and will instead facilitate travel to the overland routes, the Old City daily, "Palestine" reported on Friday.

The newspaper also reported that large quantities of T.N.T. bombs and mines were found in a house on the outskirts of Nabulus on Thursday. The landlord and a number of other persons were arrested.

Chou Back Home From North Korea

PEKING, Saturday (Reuter). — Premier Chou En-lai returned today from North Korea and shortly afterwards participated in a 40th anniversary marking the death anniversary of the Soviet Army.

No More Anxiety For Churchill's Condition

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Saturday (Reuter). — Sir Winston Churchill spent a very comfortable night and "there is no longer any anxiety," reporters were told today.

Dr. David Roberts, a Monte Carlo doctor who is treating the 83-year-old elder statesman for pneumonia and pleurisy, said he was authorized to say this by Lord Moran, Sir Winston's personal physician.

THE Egyptian note added, moreover, that because of the forthcoming plebiscite in Egypt for the election of a President to the United Arab Republic, the matter must be settled as soon as possible, so as to enable the inhabitants to participate in the plebiscite. When no reply was forthcoming (as Cairo says) the Egyptian Government on February 18 sent another note to Khartoum in which it announced its intention of sending "plebiscite committees" to the disputed areas, and that these were to be accompanied by units of the Egyptian Frontier Guards. The actual dispute started only last Monday, when the Sudanese, asking that the whole matter be postponed until after the Sudanese general elections, sent army units into the areas which they have been administering for over half a century. It is not known whether the Egyptian "Frontier Guards" had actually arrived in the disputed areas, but Egyptian sources at the U.N. quoting reports from Cairo, reported on Friday night that the plebiscite was not held there.

DOUBTS FELT

By Our Economic Correspondent
TEL AVIV, Saturday.—Doubts concerning the economic justification of a big rayon project in Israel have been felt for some time in view of the growing competition of newer nylon fibres and the recent drop in world rayon prices. Under these circumstances, Mr. Rogovin's partners evidently felt it unwise to go ahead with a big investment in an additional rayon plant, half of whose production was planned for export.

Infiltrators Active On Three Borders

Infiltrators were active on Friday and yesterday both in the Negev and in the Jordan valley.

Early on Friday morning, 31 sheep valued at IL5,000 were stolen from Bnei Tzfat, a village in the Jordan valley. The raid took place south of the Bnei Tzfat border on the Syrian border.

On Friday morning and yesterday infiltrators stole tools and irrigation pipes from a number of settlements in the western Negev. Tracks led to the Egyptian and Jordanian borders.

On Friday a watchman in kibbutz Nirim perceived two infiltrators and when he fired on them they fled.

A police patrol caught a Beduin in Beerseba yesterday with three sacks of green coffee smuggled into Israel from Jordan.

On Friday Beerseba police found other smuggled goods worth IL5,000 in the Abu Muzahib tribe camp. The members of the tribe were detained.

Jordan Complains Of Israel 'Aggression'

Jordan yesterday submitted three complaints to the Mixed Armistice Commission against "Israeli acts of aggression," Ramallah Radio reported last night.

The complaints alleged that an Israel unit opened fire on Arab Legion positions near Latrun, that a number of mortar shells exploded in Jordan territory during Israeli manoeuvres near the border, and that stones were thrown at the Old City walls in the Musara quarter of Jerusalem.

HE was disappointed, Premier Abdullah Khalil's firm stand came as a surprise to the Egyptians, and a few hours before the Security Council was to discuss the matter, they were finally forced to bow to this powerful adversary across the border. Egypt agreed to putting off discussion of the matter until after the Sudanese elections, which are to take place in the disputed areas after Nasser's backing down was accompanied by the typically disingenuous claim that the decision was a token of Egypt's solidarity with the Sudanese and independence.

Bill Collector Up For Stealing IL34,000

TEL AVIV, Saturday. — The trial of Ahleser Ben-Ami, 34, a former bill collector of Youth Aliya charged with misappropriating IL34,000 of the institution's funds, opened in the District Court on Thursday.

It was alleged that from 1952 to 1955 he had personally retained fees paid him by parents for the maintenance of their children in Youth Aliya institutions. The prosecution asserted that it would prove that Ben-Ami had lived above his means. A membership card to the Remdegovur night club, Ramat Gan, was submitted in evidence by the police.

"I got involved," the accused had declared in his statement to the police. He said that he began by delaying transfer of the fees to the Jewish Agency and subsequently the backlog mounted to a various ways and could not return.

LAW REPORT

The Jerusalem Post

February 23, 1958

In the Supreme Court

Sitting at High Court of Justice

Before the President (Justice Oshon) Justices Sussman and Landau.

Yitzhak Weiss and Yehonah

Miller, v. 1. Inspector General of Police, 2. District Attorney of the Israel Police Force

(H.C. 100/57).

Territorial

The High Court discharged

an order calling on the inspector General of Police to show cause why he should not restrain from requiring the petitioners, two police officers, to answer for their conduct in the Gaza Strip before a disciplinary court.

When the Gaza Strip was occupied by Israel Defense

Forces, in November 1956, the Israel police were invited by the Officer in Command to take over police duties in the area.

In accordance with a proclamation issued by the Military Commander, the police were empowered to act as police in the area subject to the provisions of the Police Ordinance as on May 15, 1948, plus all amendments introduced subsequently by the Gaza authorities.

The Gaza Strip was not declared by proclamation of the Defence Forces of Israel, but

"held" by the Defence Forces of Israel, and hence the provisions of section 1(1) of the Area of Jurisdiction (Police Ordinance, 1948) which lays down that any law applying to the State of Israel shall be deemed to apply to any part of Palestine held by the Defence

Forces of Israel, was applicable to it. The Army Commander therefore issued a proclamation declaring the operative law in the Gaza Strip to be that in existence in Gaza on November 1, 1948, insofar as it was not inconsistent with and subsequent to the terms of the proclamation or to any further orders and proclamations.

On the other hand, no proclamation was made under section

1(1) of the Police Ordinance, declaring the Police Force of Israel to be the police force in the Gaza Strip, and hence the military force liable to be en-powered to act as police in the area subject to the terms of the Police Ordinance, 1948, and subsequent amendments.

The Army Commander issued various orders forbidding any other than the inhabitants of the area from entering the area without a special permit, on pain of being tried before a military court. Two police of-

Tovala Head Urges Benefits Of Road Transport Over Railways

The Beersheva-Dimona railway will not be profitable even after it is increased to 100 miles, Mr. M. Chen, Director-General of the Government Transport Corporation, told a press tour of the Tovala installations at Beersheva last week.

Mr. Chen added that, in his opinion, the projected Beersheva-Dimona railway will be unable to operate at a profit as the investment involved is too large. Under the most moderate estimates this investment will amount to IL200,000, Mr. Chen said.

The interest and the amortization costs, which together will amount to about 10 per cent of IL200,000 annually, will more than suffice for motor transportation of about 700,000 tons, which is the minimum required to justify a railway line.

Mr. Chen said that in 20 countries of the 43 that he had investigated the railways do not pay their way. These countries include Germany, England, France and Italy.

He said that railways can be profitable only on very long lines, and distances less than 500 kms. are too short to make the railways a paying proposition. Motor transport, on the other hand, has a smaller initial investment and is generally more maneuverable.

The Tovala Corp. said Mr. Chen, reviewing his company's work, has been able to keep transport prices constant during the last four years owing to efficient operation. The corporation is now introducing a trailer Autocar which will be able to carry 30 tons and will serve the Elitzur route.

Tovala's revenues during 1957 amounted to more than IL25m. The company employed about 210 workers and operated a fleet of 50 Autocars.

Twenty-five per cent of its work load was carried on the Elitzur route and about 65 per cent for the Phosphate Corporation and the Dead Sea Works.

250,000 Tons Of Phosphates Seen

The Phosphate Corporation at Oran plans to produce 250,000 tons of phosphates during the coming year, exporting about two-thirds of its annual production. This was disclosed to the press on Friday by Mr. Y. Weiss, manager of the plant, during a tour of the installation.

Mr. Weiss said that the output during the 1957-58 year will be between 150,000 and 175,000 tons of phosphates, of which 75,000 have been allocated to the domestic market and 100,000 exported. The production of 250,000 tons during 1958-59 represents the plant's top capacity at present.

The company plans to reach an annual production of one million tons by 1963. The proven reserves at Oran amount to between 15 and 18 million tons with possible reserves amounting to some 20 million tons, Mr. Weiss told reporters.

In addition to the mining of ores with an average phosphate content of 28.5 per cent, the company is now processing lower grade ore with an average content of 23.5 per cent as a by-product.

New Marketing Agency in North

HAIFA, Saturday. — The Produce Purchasing Company, a joint enterprise of the Jewish Agency, the Ministry of Agriculture and the Ministry of Commerce, will from March 1 be the sole marketing agency for fruit and vegetables raised by immigrant villages in the North, replacing Hachashar Le'olah in that function.

In the past 30 months, Hachashar Le'olah has bought up 30,000 tons of produce worth IL2m. in the northern area. The P.P.C., now taking over, has already been operating for 18 months in the central and southern areas.

Fruit Shortage In Capital Temporary

The recent shortage of citrus fruit in Jerusalem was the result of a temporary interruption in picking, according to the reply of the Jerusalem District Food Controller to a letter from Mayor Gershon Agron.

The shortage was felt less in the coastal cities due to the appreciable amount of export fruit that leaks through into the local markets there.

The Controller also informed the Mayor that following the first evidence of fruit and vegetable shortage in the Capital, his office had given a transport subsidy for their shipment to Jerusalem.

Solei Boneh-French Cooperation Pact

HAIFA, Saturday. — Solei Boneh has signed an agreement with a consortium of French contracting firms that opens the door for technical and financial cooperation in the execution of major construction projects.

The agreement provides for exchanges of information and technical know-how and for the possibility of French participation in major projects executed by Solei Boneh in Israel and abroad, or giving Solei Boneh a share in construction works undertaken by French companies in Europe or overseas.

The agreement was signed in Paris by Messrs. David Hachonen, M.K. Simha Golan and Yacov Shur of Solei Boneh, and is expected to be ratified by the Company's Executive Board this month.

The consortium set up by two strong French financial groups includes such leading contracting companies as Travaux Souterrains, Entreprises Chagnaud, Schwabach, Etude Henri Leconte and Societe Duncker-Quarles d'Entreprises. The latter are building the Haifa subway.

At a general meeting of the plant's workers, it was also decided "to deal with a contractive offer through the Labour Council."

Mr. Abramowitz told the press that the Guttman group offered to pay only 10 per cent of the workers' IL2,500,000 in other debts. Mr. Guttman proposed paying the workers IL2,500 in cash, IL2,500 over eight years, and repaying IL710,000 to the other creditors over 30 years.

A 50-year-old woman was brought unconscious to hospital about 8 p.m. after having swallowed pills, the contents of which are now being examined in the laboratory. She was revived in an hour.

A 40-year-old woman, who was treated for food poisoning said she had become ill after eating bad potatoes.

SHARETT RETURNS FROM U.K. HOLLAND

Young Israelis Envy Of French Youth

TEL AVIV, Saturday. — The young generation in France today, which knows Israel only from the newspapers, believe that Israel youth are all heroes. The few young people who have visited Israel so far, have gone away with a feeling of friendly envy of Israeli youth.

Mr. Jean Parnet, French Ambassador in Israel, declared at a symposium held at Hamdurah Club in Tel Aviv on Friday evening.

Mr. Laurent went on to explain the feeling by saying that in France youth is considered to reach adulthood only when he is 21, while in Israel he is considered grown up at 18. Most French youth have no ideal in life, do not know the meaning of Socialism, while Israeli youth is actually living socialist principles.

The speaker introduced three French youths who participated in the symposium. They presented the results of a research project carried out in France last year among eight million young people of the ages of 18-30. This showed that the majority of them lacked an ideal for which they were prepared to strive, that national feeling was weak, and that they try to find their happiness in family life.

Poll on Israel's Greatest Event

A sample poll of 40,000 Israeli families to determine the 10 most important events in the 10-year-old history of the State of Israel is to be launched today by the Tenth Anniversary World Committee.

The questionnaire, which reaches homes in all neighborhoods, kibbutzim and towns, is aimed at getting a cross-section of the public's opinion regarding the most important events in the development of the State, the families will receive a questionnaire listing 50 high points of the last 10 years.

The family then chooses the most important, or is free to record additional happenings in response provided for that purpose.

The suggested events range from such probably generally agreed items as the arrival of 600,000 Jewish immigrants to the State, to more particular economic achievements, such as the discovery of oil at Akko in 1953 and El Al's Britannia's record-breaking flights.

Mr. H. Smith, Assistant Government Statistician, told a press conference in Tel Aviv on Friday that the questionnaire would reach about ten per cent of Jewish homes, a far higher percentage than is usual in the Gallup poll conducted abroad.

"We are interested in making this a genuinely popular festival," Mr. H. Smith said, "and we are asking the public to help us by returning the questionnaire as soon as possible."

The poll is also a lottery, with 100 prizes awarded to the lucky numbers, among which is to be used to return the completed form. The questionnaires must be returned in 2 envelopes, one of which is to be used to return the completed form. The questionnaires must be returned in 2 envelopes, one of which is to be used to return the completed form.

IL250,000 Loan To Arab Olive Growers

Loans totalling IL250,000 have been allocated by the Ministry of Agriculture to Arab olive growers, Mr. D. Zekaria, Head of the Arab Villages Section, announced on Friday.

This amount will be given as a grant for the upkeep of the groves until some olive yield this year.

Additional loans of IL250,000 per tree will be given to Arab farmers restoring their olive groves. Mr. Zekaria stated that olive groves cover 3,000 dunams out of the 47,000 dunams worked by Arab farmers.

Four Proposals For 10th Anthem Rejected

Jerusalem Post Reporter. All four suggestions for the Tenth Anniversary anthem presented for public approval at the Y.M.C.A. on Thursday night were rejected by the youthful audience.

Together with the Kol Yisrael orchestra under the direction of Meir Harnik performed the four songs several times, but the audience was more interested in Shmuel Segal's humorous sketches and the Lahakat Hadudim comedy.

The evening, with its rendering of Israeli songs with guitar accompaniment. None of the offered songs, however, leading song-writers, had the spontaneous success which the Tenth Anniversary hit might be expected to have.

Bezalel Art Students Plan Purim Ball

A masquerade with a South American motif has been set for March 4 at the King David Hotel in Jerusalem by the Bezalel Art School students. Since Jerusalem will have no Adar in this year, the students have given their festivities the title of Bezalel.

For the IL10 admission for a couple, the students provide the strains of the Copacabana Latin ensemble, folk music by the Duda'im, a pantomime act by Willy, and the entire show under the direction of Amnon Ahi-Naom.

Lottery prizes range from gramophone records to ladies' handbags, and every ticket bearer is assured of winning something.

Court Clears Customs Broker of Smuggling

TEL AVIV, Saturday. — A Tel Aviv customs broker was yesterday acquitted by District Court Judge Dr. Y. Zandvoort of charges of smuggling and the use of forged documents.

Mr. Yacov Landan, 33, was accused of attempting to smuggle 11 crates of office equipment into the country by using a bill of lading and a custom exemption allegedly issued by the Canadian Embassy in Israel.

The Court accepted the prosecution's charge that the documents presented by Landan had been forged but did not agree that he had known that they were not authentic.

Dubiner Attacks Citrus Draft Law

Jerusalem Post Reporter. "We are fighting the horrible feudal law the Citrus Marketing Board has proposed until it is withdrawn," Mr. Samuel Dubiner, a founder member of the Citrus Growers' Association, told the Maritime Club yesterday.

The proposal had been three times amended "by the very people who drafted it" before it reached the Knesset floor, thanks to the efforts of the citrus growers, "including myself," who had the courage to speak up against it. Yesterday was the 181st time he was speaking against the proposal during the past year, he remarked.

He charged the Citrus Marketing Board with trying to gain absolute and permanent control over packing and shipping, two allied industries which earned more than the net profit on the fruit itself.

He charged the Board with monopoly in citrus packing and shipping, which would lead to further monopolies and to eventual economic dictatorship in Israel.

Free Competition

Mr. Dubiner went on to say that his own draft favoured free competition, with the biggest earnings going to those who offer the best services. He opposed the centralized purchasing agency which would control all storage or shipping business from membership of the Board.

The present draft law even reserved for the Board the right to tax the citrus growers. Although today they asked for "only one per cent" of the Board any tax privileges.

"I want a pure marketing body that will sell our fruit at the best possible price and get the best possible return for our labour and investment. We don't want to mix politics with oranges," he said.

Haifa Hapoel Play Tel Aviv Maccabi to 2:2 Stalemate

National League leaders Tel Aviv Maccabi were held to a 2:2 draw by Haifa Hapoel, but still lead the table with 15 points. Petah Tikva Hapoel and Haifa Maccabi, who both won, are close on their heels with 14 and 12 points respectively.

A Tel Aviv goal in the 5th minute by Glazer, netted from the corner gave Tel Aviv Maccabi their draw. Half-time score was 1-1.

The game was keenly contested and kept the 7,000 spectators on the edge of their seats. The local team made a surprisingly good showing against their strong opponents, and were closely watched by their new trainer, Tchaikovsky.

The second half was scoreless until the 82nd minute, when Hapoel's Ben-David scored a penalty kick for a goal. Excitement reached a climax when, a minute before the final whistle, Glazer equalized with a corner shot which the Hapoel men, expecting it to soar out of bounds, did not bother to stop.

The Israeli National forwards seem to have learned from the Cardiff, and this week it was the turn of Haifa Maccabi centre-forward Bochu, Gogossian to score a hat-trick. Kfar Saba Hapoel were the victims in a 3-1 loss.

Petah Tikva won, defeated Tel Aviv Hapoel 4:2 after a goal down in the 8th minute. Nahum Stelmach, 20, scored right, and outside left Nahari, both scored two goals. Hapoel's Ben-David scored two for Tel Aviv.

Petah Tikva Maccabi too were a goal down against Tel Aviv Betar in Jaffa in the first minute and although they pressed practically the whole game, only managed to pull off a narrow 2-1 win in the last eight minutes. Alimaleh scored in the 82nd minute. Betar and left back Turkeltaub and centre-forward Ben-Gor the victors' goals, in the 82nd and 84th minutes.

Despite the rain, 2,000 fans turned out on the Hapoel ground at the German Colony in the Capital to watch the local Hapoel lose to Haifa Maccabi, 3-2 after the visitors led in the first half by 3-1. Haifa Maccabi were the better side and the spectators enjoyed their game. In the second half the Jerusalem men had more of the attack but could not equalize.

In the only League A Game, Betar won 4-2 against Afeka Hapoel, to finish in second spot behind Jerusalem Betar in the first round of the season.

There were two surprises in the First Division of the Basketball League. Hapoel Hapoel beat Tel Aviv Maccabi, 33:30 after extra time. The full time score stood 44:45. Petah Tikva Maccabi defeated the strong Mismar Hamek Hapoel by 50:42.

Congress Cites Said Publicity Hunting

WASHINGTON, Saturday. — The House Committee on Un-American Activities is hunting for Mr. Arthur Miller, the Pulitzer Prize-winning playwright, yesterday claimed that a Congressional Committee had used the name of a playwright to gain publicity for the Committee.

The claim was made in a brief the lawyers filed with the U.S. Court of Appeals asking it to reverse Mr. Miller's conviction for contempt of Congress.

The playwright's counsel contended that the House Un-American Activities Committee was seeking headlines rather than information for legislation, when it called Mr. Miller as a witness.

Mr. Miller's contempt conviction resulted from his refusal to divulge to the Committee the names of persons who had attended a meeting and who were alleged to be Communists.

He was fined $300 and given a one-month suspended jail term. The appeal is expected to be heard by the Court next month.

Speeches for Deaf Ears

Deaf Ears

Under active discussion at the Foreign Affairs Committee, on the subject of Britain's party was aware that at the present moment this subject was not ripe for debate in the House as the Government knew. Nevertheless he wished to make use of his parliamentary prerogative to announce that his party, the Labour Party, as he recalled, would not recognize the annexation of parts of the West Bank of the Jordan River. Treated seriously, this would be a major statement. Mr. Morgan Abernethy turned a chair.

When Mr. Abernethy began his case as similarly strong as Clement, say on Cyprus, in the House of Commons, it is understood that the same amount of attention would be at least the kind of attention as was given to the case of the Lord Lloyd as Foreign Minister.

Possible Change

For all the Conservatives will not last for ever, the Opposition may even overtake their old speech is means certain. A possibility exists and must be taken into account. Mr. Bevin is the head of the largest party in Israel, but at a little Arab-style of federating he is unlikely to become Prime Minister under proportional representation. He makes his
